YOUNG WALLACE HALL DEAD AT KINGSTON

Wallace C. Irwin, the 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Hall, died at the family home in Kingston, Tuesday afternoon, after an illness of but a few days duration. The lad had been seriously ill, it is understood, only since Sunday.

In the chapel of Bingham & Maley's undertaking establishment, this city, funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon, beginning at 3:15, this place and hour being selected in order to allow pupils of Daytona public schools, which the dead boy attended, to be present. Immediately after the funeral services conclude, the body will be borne to Pinevood cemetery and interred.

Many people of this locality will remember Wallace Hall as the boy who came so near being killed in an automobile accident about three years ago at Seabreeze. The injuries he received at that time undoubtedly impaired his physical condition greatly and hastened the termination of his recent illness.

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER IN HONOR OF MISS WILLAUME

Mrs. William Ashton Roxby and Mrs. J. Blair Dunn entertained Tuesday afternoon at the latter's Fairview avenue home with a miscellaneous shower for Miss Ella Louise Willaume.

The guests were entertained with a guessing contest, "The Forest Primrose," the prize for which was won by Mrs. B. B. Baggett. This was a beautiful towel in yellow and white. Another form of entertainment was hunting butterflies which were thimbles ties with yellow tulle. They were then given dish towels to hem. A package in yellow paper was presented to Miss Willaume and this contained a number of beautiful gifts from her friends. In the bottom of the package were the towels which had just been hemmed for use in her new home. Dainty refreshments were served, the hostess being assisted, both in the entertaining and the serving by Mrs. R. M. Knox and Mrs. J. B. Wilcox.

The house was tastefully decorated with cut flowers in yellow and white and the affair was delightfully informal. The guests included only intimate friends of the honoree.

DAYTONA'S BONDS SOLD TO KANSAS CITY PEOPLE

Price 100 Cents on Dollar, Less Brokerage and Expenses—Mayor Titus Got Busy—Work on System Probably Start Soon.

Here is one of the most gratifying bits of news that the people of this city have heard in many months:

Daytona's $150,000 issue of sewerage bonds, authorized last summer, is sold; that is, unless some highly improbable occurrence blocks the proceedings now far advanced, the bonds are as good as sold to Sutherland & Co., Kansas City capitalists.

F. D. Liscomb, a representative of the Sutherland company, arrived in Daytona a day or two ago, and after quietly investigating conditions, made inquiries of city officials concerning the price desired for the bonds. Tuesday the agent communicated with Mayor Titus, and then began a session of dickering over the price. Through the mayor, a proposition to accept 97.16 2-3 net was made. The terms were telegraphed to Kansas City; within a little while the company wired its acceptance, and the most difficult part of the job had been disposed of.

Immediately, a special meeting of the municipal council was called for last night, and all members except one, who is out of the city, were present. The following memoranda of agreement between the board of public works and the purchasers of the bonds, was unanimously ratified:

"Memoranda of agreement made and entered into this 13th day of April, 1915, by and between J. R. Sutherland & Company of Kansas City, Mo., by F. D. Liscomb, their duly authorized agent, and the City of Daytona, Volusia county, Florida, by the board of public works of the said City of Daytona, witnesseseth:

"That the said J. R. Sutherland & Company does hereby agree to purchase from the said city of Daytona $150,000 of bonds of its drainage and sewerage issue of 1914, said issue bearing date of July 1, 1914, and maturing forty years after date, in denominations of $500 and $1,000 each; said bonds bearing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, and to pay for the said bonds the sum of $150,000 and accrued interest from the first day of May, 1915, less brokerage and expenses to the amount of $4,250.

"The said J. R. Sutherland & Company further agrees to take said bonds on May 1, 1915, or as soon thereafter as the attorneys of J. R. Sutherland & Company approve the said issue.

"The said City of Daytona agrees to sell to the said J. R. Sutherland & Company the above mentioned $150,000 of bonds, and to furnish the said J. R. Sutherland & Company or such attorneys as they may designate a certified transcript of record of the proceedings had in and about the issue of the above mentioned bonds as will evidence their legality; such attorneys to render an opinion upon said transcript within a reasonable length of time.

"The said J. R. Sutherland & Company, as an evidence of good faith, has herewith delivered to the City of Daytona, Florida, a certified check in the sum of $5,000, payable to E. M. Condit as secretary of the board of public works. At, or in the event of the failure of the J. R. Sutherland & Company to carry out the terms of this contract of sale, then and in that event the sum of $5,000 shall be re-

MISCELLANEOUS SHOWER IN HONOR OF MISS WILLAUME

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Ramsey entertained about 30 of their friends ow, the occasion being a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Ella Willame, whose approaching marriage to Arthur N. Otis was recently announced. The decorations were in red, geraniums and paper hearts being used in profusion.

Mrs. Nickerson, of Cincinnati, won the prize in the guessing contest, the "Floral Wedding," and other games followed. Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey then Frances Shelly and following the "shower," tempting refreshments were served by the hostess.

addition there were donations of many kinds including fruit, bed linen and dishes enough for three trays. All of the prizes offered at the party were generously contributed by various 17 prizes. The ladies in charge of the

TEN YEARS AFTER

By F. A. MITCHEL

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Aldrich were dining at a restaurant. They had been married ten years. Mrs. Aldrich sat looking about her, admiring or condemning the apparel of the ladies at other tables, while her husband read an evening paper.

"Tom," said the wife, "there's a bridal couple over there."
Tom looked about him.

"Where?"
"At the table by the middle window."

"Oh!"
"She has a lovely hat."
"How do you know they are bride and groom?"

"How do I know? Everything indicates it."

"What, for instance?"
"Well, in the first place, she is conscious. She looks just as I felt when you and I dined at the Summerset House the day after we were married."

"What else?"
"Look!"

The bride's glass stood midway between her and the man. He took it up and sipped the wine in it. The love-light shone in the eyes of both. He gently moved his own glass toward her, and she, too, sipped, with a repetition of the love glances.

"Very interesting," grunted Mr. Aldrich, resuming his paper.

The waiter brought the dinner. Mr.
Aldrich was in the midst of the financial article, and his wife, not caring to wait for him to finish it, helped him to the viands, then helped herself.
They ate the first course in silence, and while waiting for the second Mr. Aldrich resumed his paper.

"Tom," said Mrs. Aldrich.
"What?"
"Look."

He followed her eyes in the direction of the supposed bride and groom.

"Well?"
"Don't you see?"
"No, I don't."

"They are holding hands under the table—on the other side—next to the window."

"Touching," said Mr. Aldrich and resumed his paper. A page of advertisements of women's wear was exposed to his wife. She bent forward and scanned it.

When the next course came on Mr.
Aldrich had finished the commercial reports and helped the viands. The only remark made during this course by the husband was, "The market closed strong," the only one by the wife was, "Is my hat straight?"

Between the third and fourth courses
Mr. Aldrich looked at his watch, toyed with his wineglass and made one remark: "I shall sell Mop tomorrow.
Good sale, I'm sure." The wife replied, "I bought one yesterday."

Meanwhile the wife's attention was divided between the ladies' hats—she was thinking of buying one—and the bride and groom.

"Tom," she said presently, "look." Again he turned his eyes, poising a mushroom on his fork while doing so.

The bride and groom had risen, and the groom was holding the bride's coat for her. As she slipped it on her he folded it about her in a manner to denote excessive tenderness. She looked up into his eyes dove-like.

"Why don't you ever show me such attention?" asked Mrs. Aldrich.
"Because I don't wish to attract the attention of a restaurant full of people."

But Mrs. Aldrich did not hear. She had caught sight of a hat that pleased her.

"Just the thing to go with my tailor made suit. I wonder where she got it."

But at that moment the bride and groom sailed past her, the bride looking as if she were facing a battery of all the eyes in the restaurant, as indeed she was, and the groom looking defiant.

"I wonder," remarked Mrs. Aldrich,
"why brides and grooms are so conscious of being observed and yet so bent on giving themselves away, especially in public places."

"Because they can't help it," replied her husband.

When the repast was finished and the bill was called for Mrs. Aldrich said:

"Do you remember that first dinner we had together after our wedding at the Summerset?"

"The Summerset?" trying to remember.

"Yes. You said to me, 'Anything more, sweetheart?' and when I replied 'Nothing' you said, 'Don't you think you would like an ice?' and when I said 'No' again you said, 'A little cordial to top off with?' And when I declined that you kept on asking me if I would have this and have that."

"How I must have bored you!"
As he made the last remark the waiter laid the bill before him. He did not dispute it, but looked as if he would like to, though the charge was moderate.

"Do you remember, dear," asked his wife, "how at the Summerset, knowing that we were a bride and groom, they stuck you for $19.55 when the cost wasn't more than $7.25?"

"For heaven's sake, Edith, how have you managed to keep those figures in your head so many years?"
Mrs. Aldrich made no audible reply, but she made one inwardly. It was this:

"How is it that men so soon forget that which should be nearest to their hearts?"

ORMOND

ORMOND, April 15. — Ormond is very proud to have Miss Mabel Ellsworth win out in the trip to the Panama-Pacific Exposition contest, given by the management of the Gazette-News. Miss Ellsworth did not enter the contest until after a great many votes had been promised and disposed of to other contestants, and she may well feel gratified, as Ormond does for her, that she has won the trip.

The Ormond items of late seem but a chronicle of the going of winter people here. On Thursday of last week Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Ellicott returned to their home at Nyack, N.
Y., and several other departures are looked for in the near future.

Quite a full house was in attendance on Sunday morning to listen to the strong, excellent sermon of Dr.
John M. Richmond. With the closing of the hotels and winter cottages the Sunday morning attendance will be diminished somewhat.

Major David W. Lewis and Mrs.
Lewis were taken to the sanitarium of Dr. Bohannon, Daytona, on Saturday last, both having grip, and the Major being quite ill. The latest reports are that they are both improving and will soon be out.

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Sage and family closed "Merridale," their home on Palmetto street, on Thursday, and left for Hartford, Conn., their northern home. Their many Ormond friends regret their early departure, as well as that of Miss Margaret Howe, who has closed her home on Granada avenue and returned to Danvers, Mass., somewhat earlier than she had anticipated.

Alfred G. Weatherbee, on Lincoln avenue, has gone north, leaving on Sunday last.

Miss Helen Sawyer entertained about twenty members of the Fourth Day club at her beach cottage on Thursday, where bathing, games, luncheon, etc., were enjoyed.

Among the entertainments in Miss Simrall's honor during the week previous to her marriage, was a delightful rehearsal dinner of several courses, given by Mrs. Joseph Downing Price at Hammock Home, on Monday evening, and a small party given by Miss Lucy Reilly, who, with Miss Sim-rall and her friends, attended the "movies" at Daytona, the guests returning later to Miss Reilly's home for refreshments and a social good time.

Miss Margaret Howe, Granada avenue, closed her home on Tuesday, and, with her housekeeper, left for Danvers, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Rigby, who have been spending a couple of weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rigby, on Pine street, have returned to their home at Bensonhurst, N. Y.

Mrs. E. H. Arnold and daughter, of West Hartford, Conn., cousins of W.
A. Burr, are staying at Magnolia for a few weeks. The visitors spent the greater part of the winter at St. Petersburg, and are on their way north.

Henry P. Davison, who, together with his son, conducted a bakery in Ormond during the past year, died very suddenly in Jersey City, N. J., recently. The Davison family left Ormond about two weeks ago for Trenton.

BALL GAME AT

EBBETS FIELD

D. H. S. TO PLAY PORT ORANGE

TEAM TOMORROW AFTERNOON IN OPENING GAME OF AMA-TUEUR SEASON.

The first amateur base ball game of the local season will be staged at Ebbets field tomorrow afternoon, when the team of the local high school will attempt to put that which represents the fair and ancient village of Port Orange on the small end of the score. The D. H. S. team has one victory over the Port Orangers to its credit already, having won the opening contest, played at Port Orange last week, by a 4 to 2 score.

The D. H. S. base ball team is no exception to other D. H. S. teams, and showed its "pep" and gameness by coming from behind and winning out in the ninth, in the opening game of the season. A number of the squad held a fast work-out at Ebbets field, Monday afternoon, and it is planned to practice today. The line-up for tomorrow's game will probably be,
R. Green, 2b; Gardiner, ss; Branch, c; Drake, 1b; Milligan, 3b; Newman, lf; Baker, cf; E. Green, p.

Remember the date and place, and come out and help "fan" the runs across the plate. The game will be called at 3:15. Take street cars to the park.

The plant from which the bayberry candle is made is the shrub Myrica cerifera, a plant which is common in New England, and especially along the coast of Maine. The bayberry shrub is not closely related to the Myrica acris, or West India bay, from the leaves of which bay rum is obtained by distillation.

History of Linen Manufacture.

The Scots in Ulster first established linen manufacture during the reign of James the First, and from this beginning has the business of the present day developed.

tained by the city board of public works as "equipment charges."
The contract of sale is signed jointly by representatives of the city and the Sutherland company.

After the ratification of the agreement bearing upon the bond sale, a resolution having to do with a tentative contract made some time ago with a firm of contractors who had bid upon the construction of the proposed sewer system, was adopted, as follows:

"Be it resolved by the city council that the board of public works do not enter into any contract to take the place of the contract formerly entered into with Guild & Co., without the consent and ratification of the city council."

When seen by a Daily News representative Tuesday morning, Mayor Titus was jubilant over the outcome of the latest move made towards the solution of the bond problem. He stated that there is practically no doubt that the bonds will be taken by Sutherland & Co., on or about the first of May, and that within a short time thereafter—probably not longer than 60 days—actual construction of Daytona's much needed adequate sewer system will have been commenced.

The comparatively few persons aware of the deal with the Kansas City firm are highly elated, as the price to be paid for the bonds is considerably higher than many had hoped could be obtained, owing to the alleged stringency of the money market. To the mayor and other city officials who assisted in bringing the bond matter to so successful a near-conclusion unstinted praise is being given.

Made Slavery Hereditary.

The first formal recognition of negro slavery in Virginia was March 1, 1661, when the assembly declared that "negroes are incapable of making satisfaction for the time lost in running away, by addition of time," and slavery was made hereditary in Virginia in 1662 by an act of the assembly that the issue of slave mothers should follow their condition.

To Mend Celluloid.

Any article made of celluloid may be mended with collodion. Scratch the broken edges to be mended with a sharp knife until a smooth surface is secured. Apply the collodion and press tightly together for several minutes. Let stand for at least twenty-four hours. Liquid collodion will answer as well, since the main ingredient is collodion.

Aluminum.

Aluminum cooking utensils are a delight until they turn dark inside—then they are abomination. It is easy, however, to keep them bright. Either wash them in soda and water or boil tomato parings in them; cuttings from r-barb and the water it was washed in alone will often do the work. So will lemon and table salt.

Steel vs. Iron.

For some purpose iron is to be preferred to steel and vice versa. To easily distinguish one from the other, make a bright spot on the metal with a file or sand paper and apply a single drop of nitric acid. Allow it to remain for one or two minutes and wash or wipe off. If the spot has a pale ashy appearance it is wrought iron; if it is a brownish black, it is steel; if a deep black, it is cast iron.

Pipefish Has "Pocket."

The pipefish, as it is called, from the length of its jaws, has a pocket on the under side of its body nearly half its length. It is found in the male species only, and is the only part of its body which is unprotected by large flat plates, which take the place of scales in its protective armor. In this pocket the young fish are carried very similar to the way the kangaroo carries its young.

Left Over.

"Robert," said his mother, "what mischief have you been up to now? I can tell by the look in your eyes that you have been naughty." "Oh," replied Robert, "that's part of the look left over from the last time I was naughty."
